Locating Warranties On-Line - #1 Resource for Locating Extended Auto Warranties from Multiple Providers Guardian Web Company LLC launches one-stop, comparative shopping site for nationwide extended auto warranty needs

NEWARK, DE - July 8, 2004 /Send2Press Newswire/ -- In a time when vehicle repair costs are skyrocketing, extended auto warranty's pay for parts, labor and other related expenses, potentially saving the consumer thousands of dollars over the life of the coverage. Today there are hundreds of companies offering a wide variety of plans, making it increasingly difficult for the consumer to know how to go about finding the best coverage -- at the best possible price. To assist the consumer through this process, a group of industry leaders have joined together to launch a new online service: www.aaaautowarranty.com.

It is the only web site of its kind which offers one-stop, comparative shopping for extended auto warranty needs and one of only a few providing coverage for vehicles nation wide.

The web site features an easy-to-use "Quick Quote" center which researches plans from some of the country's top providers, displays a variety of coverage options available for the vehicle entered, and does so all in less than a minute. The user has the ability to customize coverage to meet their individual needs - also a first of its kind in the industry. There is a Resource Center for quick and easy access to all things automotive, and for those who still like the personal touch, "Live" operators are ready to assist visitors 24 hours a day via toll-free number or Online Support.

When researching a warranty for their vehicle, the most important thing a consumer can do is make certain they are dealing with an insured product.
AAAAutoWarranty.com only offers warranties backed by leading insurance companies with an A.M. Best rating of A ("Excellent") or better. This provides the consumer with an added level of protection. Should the warranty company fail to meet their obligations for whatever reason, the insurer would step in to pay the claims.

Kevin Watson of AAAAutoWarranty.com says, "Most people aren't aware that they can now purchase a warranty at any time, and not just when they bought their vehicle. Another thing people don't realize is that most warranties purchased through a dealership actually come from a third party source. The dealership is simply a middleman at the right place - at the right time. By utilizing our services, consumers can buy direct from top providers and save themselves hundreds of dollars for the same, if not better, extended warranty coverage.
