GTDATA Corp. to Pursue Buyer for TSLi

SIMI VALLEY, Calif. - Nov. 13, 2003 /Send2Press Newswire/ -- GTDATA Corp. (OTC BB: GTDT) announced today that the company's board of directors has approved pursuing a buyer for the operations of its wholly owned subsidiary, Technical Services and Logistics, Inc. (TSLi). The Company's goal is to sell the operations of TSLi, thereby allowing GTDATA to continue in a different direction.

The decision was based on TSLi's deteriorating financial condition, which has worsened since TSLi lost several of its key customers earlier this year. The Company does not expect to reap any financial benefit should it be able to sell TSLi's operations. There can be no assurance that the Company will be able to consummate such a transaction, and in the event that it can't, the Company will most likely be forced to liquidate TSLi.
