ExcelRescue - a New Microsoft Excel File Recovery Service Released By Cimadevilla Electronica S.L

MADRID, Spain - Dec. 16, 2003 /Send2Press Newswire/ -- Cimadevilla Electronica S.L (www.excel-rescue.com) today released a fully automated Online recovery service for damaged or corrupt MS Excel files in all its versions. The entire recovery process, starting when a visitor first enters the site until the file is restored and in the service user's own computer, takes 15 minutes.

Cimadevilla Electronica S.L has taken into consideration the three greatest issues in a file recovery service - Commercial Software recovery capabilities, with features that include cell text recovery, Bitmaps and other embedded objects, charts, formulas, external formulas, formats, etc - Quick turnaround, and - automatic processing, that insures that confidential files remain that way since they are not processed by humans.

"We wanted to bring the file recovery service to a new level of professionalism, eradicating waiting times and insuring the confidentiality of our customers files," Said Jeannette Varela, Cimadevilla Electronica SL Head of the International Marketing department.

Following the release of ExcelRescue Cimadevilla Electronica S.L will release WordRescue and AccessRescue, two online recovery services for Ms Word and Ms Access.
