More Than 100,000 Projected To Participate In National 'I'm Embarrassed By My President' Day on April 1, 2004

WASHINGTON DC, March 25, 2004 /Send2Press Newswire/ -- Democracy Means You (www.democracymeansyou.com), an organization that promotes increased participation in the democratic process, announced today that more than 100,000 Americans are expected to participate in the National "I'M EMBARRASSED BY MY PRESIDENT" Day, April 1st, 2004.

"Americans all over the country are so frustrated with the policies of the Bush Administration that we decided to organize the National 'I'm Embarrassed by My President' Day on April Fool's Day 2004 to protest all the spin, lies, manipulations, misrepresentations, and mismanagement of the Bush Administration," says Ian Kleinfeld, political activist and founder of Democracy Means You.

Participants will be wearing BROWN RIBBONS, armbands, or clothing "to protest all the 'brown material' flowing out of the White House and stinking up the nation." Many will be wearing official "National I'm Embarrassed by My President Day" buttons.

The timing of the national event on April Fool's day is to further exemplify that millions of Americans -- and others -- find this President to be a fool, and his policies foolish.

This event is NOT an April Fools Day joke.

As of March 24, there are over 20,000 participants, growing rapidly by the hour, representing 41 of 50 states. Total participation on April 1st is projected to exceed 100,000 nationwide.
