“It’s fantastic to be able to bring our very popular format to the Dallas/Fort Worth market,” said James Ringrose, President of The Restaurant Review. “By combining the best elements of a weekly gourmet magazine, a restaurant guide and an on-line radio station, we are able to provide a unique picture of the Metroplex restaurants that we have reviewed so far. The Metroplex is a very hot restaurant market, with a many world-class places to enjoy outstanding food and wine. We are really looking forward to covering them all in the coming months.”
