Having fully recovered from several life threatening diseases – including cancer – Karen Jolly offers MeditationalTherapy.com as an oasis of empowerment. Karen shares her personal story, “Meditation and visualization has given me my life back... I created Meditational Therapy as a tool to discover the power that lies within each one of us.”

Nineteen year old daughter, Sarah Jolly agrees, recently joining Meditational Therapy as a partner after her own near-death tragedy. “Meditational Therapy helped me tremendously in recovery from a triple roll-over car accident and three subsequent surgeries.” Sarah continues, “It’s one thing to see others transform, because of what your mom does, it’s another to benefit so intimately.” Miss Jolly describes her experience as life alerting, “Today, no one can even tell I’ve been in an accident.” She says working with Meditational Therapy did the trick.

Meditational Therapy is touching others

“Karen’s voice soothes and hugs you making you feel that everything is going to be alright...She awakens you to your inner self that is so full of unconditional love” writes a young mother from Long Island, New York. While another from California says, “We hear from the heartfelt tones in Karen Jolly’s voice that we needn’t look for love and acceptance anywhere, we are the timeless and immeasurable love we seek in others.”
