“MS is a cause that is near and dear to my heart as my mother has suffered with this terrible disease for many, many years now,” said Julee Harris, President and CEO of Kaizer Diamonds, International. “So I want to do my part to raise both money and awareness about this terrible disease. We all have to use whatever resources we have to help find a cure, and since I own a diamond business, I thought, why not say it with diamonds? They are, after all, the world’s most resilient stones, and one of the most beautiful, just like those who manage to stay strong and positive despite the devastating effects of this disease.”

Every ten days, Kaizer will auction off a new Mystery Chest containing four collector’s eggs. Hidden in each egg is a treasure, with a combined retail value of $100,000.00. All mystery items arrive with a Certificate of Authenticity from the world’s two foremost authorities on diamonds. Kaizer

Diamonds stresses that you will be bidding only on the chest itself, the contents are a gift to the winning bidder. Periodically, riddles, clues, cash prize opportunities, and hints about the chest's contents will appear on the auction page, woven into fictional adventures about love, loyalty and friendship, set in the mythical world of Alltias.

Kaizer Diamonds, an industry leader in wholesale diamonds and diamond jewelry, is based in Fresno, California. All Kaizer diamonds are 100% natural, and conflict free. Kaizer sells their diamond jewelry exclusively on eBay.

The Nancy Davis Foundation for MS is a nonprofit dedicated to improving the treatment of and finding a cure for the devastating disease of multiple sclerosis.
