MINOT, N.D., Sept. 20 (SEND2PRESS NEWSWIRE) – IFusionSoft’s new online survey management service, Survey Fusion, now has its hat thrown into the survey enterprise feedback ring. Survey Fusion offers businesses one easy to use fast and effective tool for creating surveys to instantly generating useful dazzling reports.

According to Jesse Smith, President of IFusionSoft, “Most survey systems seem to have several complicated tools. We wanted to create online software that was convenient and easy to use, allowing businesses to rapidly get the feedback they need for decision making, spotting trends and marketing analysis without expending a lot of time and energy to get the same results.”

“The nice thing about online software is that your administration costs are considerably reduced and no software upgrades and/or maintenance is required.”

IFusionSoft is also working on incorporating predictive modeling analysis (PMA) for Survey Fusion. PMA will give businesses the ability to further analyze their data in ways not commonly offered by other survey solutions.
