

UnitingCouples Launches the Internet's First Match Service for Couples

PHOENIX, AZ (SEND2PRESS NEWSWIRE) – UnitingCouples(TM) today announced the launch of www.UnitingCouples.com, the Internet's first cyber community aimed specifically at helping couples meet and build friendships with other couples.

"Our service is a direct response to the feedback we've been receiving from couples who are frustrated with the lack of social networks for couples," said Kimber Clark, President and CEO of UnitingCouples(TM). "This modern membership service is designed to help like-minded couples of all ages to find each other and start making plans for card nights, game nights, dinners out on the town, hobbies, vacations...whatever you can think of. The possibilities are endless. Hopefully, what will result are lasting friendships based on similar interests, shared values, and mutual support."

UnitingCouples.com matches couples based on the unique couple profile-based matching system and compatibility questionnaire. Free Friendship Guides and other resources are also available to help couples create genuine friendships that prosper and endure.

Couples registering after December 26, 2005 must pay a $25.00 initial membership fee, and then $9.95 per month thereafter. To celebrate their launch, UnitingCouples.com is offering the first six months of membership completely free to any couple who registers prior to December 26, 2005.

Some of the other benefits of membership include:

- * Regional database of couples in your area, and across the U.S. and Canada
- * Proven and unique matching criteria
- * On-line friendship guides and resources
- * Exclusive UnitingCouples(TM) Mix & Match to-do calendar with links to local events
- * Online chat capability

* UC Bike Club

* Browsable couple profiles arranged by categories, from Athletic Couples, to Gamer Couples, to Cultural and Art Couples

UnitingCouples.com will start an initial cable advertising campaign in Arizona and will roll out a nationwide campaign over the next 2 to 4 months.

"I think it's important to keep growing and expanding as a couple, and make new friends, even after you've found your life partner," said Clark. "At UnitingCouples.com you can make as many or as few new friends as you like. It's about enhancing the quality of your life!"
