

PronunciationWorkshop Trains U.S. Embassy Staffers in Iraq and Afghanistan How to Correctly Pronounce American English

CHICAGO, IL (SEND2PRESS NEWSWIRE) – PronunciationWorkshop.com LLC (www.PronunciationWorkshop.com), a leader in American Accent Training, announced today that their DVD Video Training Program is helping the U.S. fight the war on terrorism. Their unique English Pronunciation Training Course is being used to assist linguists and translators, some who are involved with the Saddam Hussein trial, with improving their ability to speak English clearly and effectively. Staff members at the U.S. Embassies in Iraq and Afghanistan, who speak numerous languages are using PronunciationWorkshop's American Accent program to increase their capacity to speak English fluently and with correct pronunciation ...in other words, to be understood.

Send2Press® Newswire The

PronunciationWorkshop.com Video Training Program offers an effective and unique computer-based video training course available on DVD as well as via Digital Download over the Internet. It is an entire English improvement program designed for all speakers of English as a Second Language. The program consists of fifteen video training sessions encompassing approximately 4 hours of content. All instruction is given by Paul Gruber, a nationally certified speech language pathologist and leading expert in the field of English pronunciation and American Accent training. The entire program sells for $229.00 and is only available for purchase at www.PronunciationWorkshop.com.

(Photo Caption: PronunciationWorkshop.com Video Training Program.)*

“It’s very gratifying to know that our training is aiding in what some experience as a language barrier,” states Paul Gruber, CEO and founder of PronunciationWorkshop. “When we developed this course, I never envisioned that it would have such an immediate impact on today’s global relations.”

“There are so many languages spoken in that region – Arabic, Pashto, Turkish, Kurdish, to name a few; but English has always been the one universal language. Unfortunately, these speakers may have a good grasp of English, but they are often unintelligible. Our DVD training is the perfect vehicle to instruct speakers of English as a second language (ESL), how to use proper English pronunciation and learn to speak with an American Accent.”

Established in 2005, PronunciationWorkshop.com is becoming the leader in American Accent Training for speakers of English as a second language. The PronunciationWorkshop.com program has received world-wide acclaim from international call centers, professionals, universities, doctors, actors, ESL students, teachers, human resource managers, training directors, embassies and governmental agencies.

More information: www.PronunciationWorkshop.com

News issued by: PronunciationWorkshop.com LLC

#

Original Story ID: (1293) :: 2006-02-0213-003

Original Keywords: PronunciationWorkshop.com LLC, Video Training Program, translation training, Arabic, Pashto, Turkish, Kurdish, American Accent Training, speakers of English as a second language, Pronunciation Workshop, DVDm training course, U.S. military, Paul Gruber, software, international call centers, professionals, universities, field of English pronunciation and American Accent training, Chicago, English Pronunciation Training Course PronunciationWorkshop.com LLC