SAN FRANCISCO, CA – March 27, 2006 (SEND2PRESS NEWSWIRE) – ComplianceEase(R), a leading provider of compliance and risk-management solutions announced today that Dave Girling, executive vice president of sales and marketing, will serve as a speaker for the session, Implementing and Utilizing Service Oriented Architecture in the Mortgage Lending Environment, held on March 30, 2006. The session will take place during the Mortgage Banker Association's (MBA) 2006 National Technology in Mortgage Banking Conference and Expo, to be held at the San Diego Convention Center from March 29 – April 1, 2006.

The MBA's 2006 National Technology in Mortgage Banking Conference and Expo is designed for forward-thinking mortgage professionals interested in accelerating their operational efficiencies and bottom line through technology. The conference prepares and educates lenders on the areas of eMortgages, eCommerce security, identity theft prevention, Web services, wireless technologies and more.

The session on which Girling will be speaking, Implementing and Utilizing Service Oriented Architecture in the Mortgage Lending Environment, is designed for dynamic medium- to large- size mortgage lenders who are interested in adopting service-oriented architecture (SOA) to achieve the speed-to-market needed in today's highly competitive lending environment. Girling along with his fellow speakers/moderator will use this session to educate participants about putting together applications using SOA frameworks, identifying the core benefits of SOA and illustrating implementation pitfalls based on both vendor and lender experience. The event will show how SOA can empower a company using a real-world case study about a lender that has implemented SOA throughout its organization.

Girling is enthusiastic to speak about SOA and illustrate how it can empower companies. "The benefits of SOA have been a hot topic over the last few years and it is necessary to show the industry how SOA works, and more importantly how to ensure that current lenders' systems lenders can be successfully integrated into SOA-based platforms. The goal of the session is to provide audience members with the necessary information they need to properly assess how an investment in SOA can help their organization," says Girling.

During the four-day conference, ComplianceEase will be demonstrating how automated compliance systems can advance and strengthen a lender's business operations at booth number 625.
