

Streetwise Reports Debuts New Silver Directory with Listings of Silver Explorers, Miners and Producers

SONOMA, CA – April 28 (SEND2PRESS NEWSWIRE) – The past few months have seen precious metals prices soar, and silver is no exception. As investment demand for silver skyrockets, silver's price has risen over 20% this year. In support of the growing bull market in this valuable commodity, Streetwise Reports has compiled and published a growing, comprehensive listing of silver explorers miners and producers worldwide in The Silver Directory (<http://www.theaureport.com/cs/user/query/q/27>), a feature on The Gold Report (<http://www.theaureport.com>).

The Silver Directory is supported by Streetwise's veteran forum of newsletter writers such as David Morgan, Jason Hommel and Bob Bishop and analysts such as David Stein, Brian Christie, and Jim Mustard. This comprehensive directory is utilized by money managers, brokers and high-net worth investors.

Streetwise has already compiled a similar directory, The Uranium Directory (<http://www.theaureport.com/cs/user/query/q/21>), which has become a valued and much used resource.

In a recent Aden Forecast newsletter, precious metals newsletter writers Pamela and Mary Anne Aden state "On a big picture basis, silver's bull market has a long way to go. The $11-$12 level is an intermediate target, but . . . silver has the potential to reach its 1980 high near $50 before this mega bull market is over For now, silver will likely continue to outperform gold. The supply situation alone favors a higher silver price."

ABOUT STREETWISE AND THE GOLD REPORT

For nearly three decades, Streetwise Reports has provided strategic, up-to-date and valuable investment information on a wide range of developing investment sectors to money managers, brokers and private investors throughout North America. Streetwise publishes The Gold Report (<http://www.theaureport.com>), an electronic magazine dedicated exclusively to one of today's most exciting and attractive investment sectors -gold, silver, uranium and other precious metals. Among the Web's most comprehensive sources of information on mining industry investment trends,

The Gold Report provides 24-hour access to general commentary on the precious metals sector; specific investment recommendations by industry portfolio managers, top analysts and newsletter writers; investment summaries on key mining companies; and summaries of news articles from major publications such as The Wall Street Journal, The New York Times, Fortune and Forbes. The Uranium Directory and The Silver Directory are also featured on the site.

Subscribers can receive a free weekly e-mail newsletter

(<http://www.theaureport.com/cs/user/create/cl?x-t=webcreate.form>) from The Gold Report.

News issued by: Streetwise Reports / The Gold Report

#

Original Story ID: (1583) :: 2006-04-0428-001

Original Keywords: Streetwise Reports, The Gold Report, Dan Eliason, theaureport.com, Anne Evers Communications, The Silver Directory, David Morgan, Jason Hommel and Bob Bishop and analysts such as David Stein, Brian Christie, and Jim Mustard Streetwise Reports / The Gold Report