“We will have our latest technology on display for this event,” says Michael Metzger, General Manager of Industrial Microscopy and Metrology for Nikon Instruments Inc in Melville. “Brook-Anco Corporation currently provides outstanding service to our respected customers throughout New York and Michigan, bringing the most innovative system solutions to the complex challenges facing industry and engineering today,” Metzger continued. “We are excited to see them expand into Texas and believe the Brook-Anco team will bring a wealth of knowledge and support to our growing industrial customer base.”

“We have nearly 50 years of experience in the Measurement Industry and many of our key clients in New York and Michigan share offices and manufacturing throughout Texas,” said Brian Wright, President of Brook-Anco. “We are establishing our first office in Fort Worth with others planned for Austin, Houston and El Paso.”

The Open House will offer a wide range of measurement systems on display from Bench top microscopes to sophisticated vision and laser systems. Engineers will be on hand to answer questions and measure parts.

“We encourage engineers and technicians to bring examples of their products to view and measure on one of the many systems on display. It is an exciting and challenging time in manufacturing technology. Nikon is recognized as the leader in new technology for Vision and Microscopy Systems,” said Mr. Metzger.

Reservations: Reservations for the Open House should be made calling: Judy Hunnicutt, Nikon Sales Office Manager @ phone # 888-424-0880 or Email jhunnicutt@nikon.net.
