

Neotrope Announces the Relaunch of Online News and Lifestyle Magazine eNewsChannels

TORRANCE, Calif. – Dec. 1 (SEND2PRESS NEWSWIRE) – Neotrope(R), a 24 year old entertainment, publishing, brand marketing and content company, announced today the formal re-launch of its online news and lifestyle magazine, eNewsChannels(TM). The publication (at www.eNewsChannels.com) features articles on social issues, personal well being, and entertainment. Selected news stories from the offbeat to the fascinating are included. The publication is edited by veteran journalist Christopher Laird Simmons, with a varied list of storied contributors.

Send2Press® Newswire

Contributing editors to eNewsChannels include (so far): Connie Baxter Marlow, filmmaker, photographer, writer and speaker is a futurist who feels she has discovered missing pieces to the prevailing paradigm. John C. Garrison is a multitalented intellectual, a virtual 'renaissance man' whose varied interests and interdisciplinary studies span the fields of Christian theology, political science, history, psychology, philosophy, and tax law. Shirley Ryan has a MS in Human Relations and is president of Working Together, a business specializing in spiritual and cultural shifts in communities and helping people to create abundant, enriched life styles through changes in mind, body, and spirit. Scott G, also known as the recording artist "The G-Man," with his albums distributed by Delvian Records and available on Rhapsody and iTunes, is a voting member of NARAS and regularly writes about communications, music marketing and advertising.

An example of articles by these columnists can be found at:
enewschannels.com/news/articles/

The senior editor and publisher, Christopher Simmons, is a respected journalist who has written for national print magazines covering music, comic books, computer games, digital imaging, graphic arts, and Web technologies. He is frequently interviewed by publications like Entrepreneur, and TrendWatch. His music can be found on iTunes and CDbaby, he's a member of ASCAP and the PRSA, hosts the Ga-Ga(TM) Podcast, and is an award-winning designer and photographer.

With both original content and the best of business generated material, eNewsChannels offers only highly credible and relevant news, interviews, opinion and commentary. The full featured re-launch is scheduled for Jan. 1, 2007, with a full "preview edition" available now. Readers can subscribe via RSS and Google News.

Neotrope(R) was established in California in 1983 and publishes a wide variety of content for new media through the Neotrope News Network which includes www.eNewsChannels.com, www.AdvertisingIndustryNewswire.com and www.CaliforniaNewswire.com among others currently in re-development.

eNewsChannels(TM), Ga-Ga(TM), Advertising Industry Newswire(TM), and California Newswire(TM) are trademarks of Neotrope.

News issued by: Neotrope

#

Original Story ID: (2273) :: 2006-12-1201-001

Original Keywords: online news magazine, lifestyle publishing, entertainment articles and music reviews, eNewsChannels relaunch, Neotrope News Network announcement, Christopher Simmons, Connie Baxter Marlow, Scott G, John Garrison, Shirley Ryan Neotrope