With this latest release, ITM Software extends its leadership in IT business management, delivering a host of new capabilities in each of the five ITM Business Suite modules. Collectively, these enhancements are designed to streamline strategic planning, improve management efficiency, and increase visibility into resource loading and business initiatives.

Financial Resource Management: Faster and easier IT budgeting and planning across all aspects of IT spend plus improved IT financial analytics.

Human Capital Management: Deeper resource planning capabilities across the full spectrum of IT activities, including IT services, application support, projects, and sustaining operations.

Project Portfolio Management: New portfolio analytics, plus more flexible and dynamic portfolios for grouping, evaluating, and tracking investment initiatives.

Vendor Relationship Management: Improved contract management.

Governance & Compliance Management: Improved support for large-scale compliance initiatives by enabling broader distribution of compliance responsibilities across the organization.

"As the need to demonstrate IT's value to the enterprise continues to grow, IT leadership is under increasing pressure to better align IT decisions with business objectives," said Hank Leingang, ITM Software's CEO. "We are pleased to be extending the capabilities of the ITM solution and furthering our ability to provide the insight IT requires to make fact-based decisions, lower costs, and better align IT with the business."

Several clients, including National Semiconductor and Hyperion, have been briefed on the new release and have already developed plans to take advantage of the added capabilities.
