In 2006, laptop sales exceeded desktop sales for the first time. Now, with a higher supply for laptops, there is a demand for laptop parts. Vice President David Salaues notes that “laptops used to be like black boxes” with very little maintenance. Consumers were throwing away machines or replacing system boards, which are extremely costly.

Now, with the vast supply of DC Jacks, once not available in the US, system boards do not need to be replaced, but simply repaired. Some of the most common problems in a laptop pertain directly to the DC Jack. After years of effort, Impact Computers has built a relationship with the DC Jack manufacturers directly, making DC Jacks more available in the U.S. for consumers and companies.

For all makes and models, Impact Computers has DC Jacks to repair system boards. If ones laptop is shutting off without warning; the battery charge LED is flashing; the battery will not fully charge; or if the AC adapter is plugged in but the laptop seems to be dead, the DC Jack can be at fault. In such cases, one should check with Impact Computers for the appropriate DC Jack to secure the life of the laptop. Impact Computers also attains hard-to-find DC jacks for rare and/or older models.

For information one can be directly linked to their website, impactcomputers.com, which is exceptional in organization and ease for the consumer. Parts are shipped with care and diligence.

Impact Computers has also been highly revered by the media. Author Scott Mueller recognizes Impact Computers in his book, "Upgrading and Repairing Laptops" (ISBN-10: 0789733765 ). Along with Mueller, MobilePC Magazine also alludes to Impact Computers' organization and high quality of laptop parts.

Why spend hundreds of dollars replacing an entire system board when you can easily replace a DC Jack (Power Jack) for under 15 dollars?
