The Pitchers Eye(R) has been licensed and approved by Little League of America(R). Baseball can be a difficult game to teach, the Pitcher's Eye(R) makes it an easier game to learn. If a pitcher sees well, a pitcher will perform better. Visualization can now be taught on the field.

According to Bob Gibson, former major league pitcher for the NY Mets and Milwaukee Brewers, "The Pitcher's Eye allows pitchers to see how a strike zone works and how to use it." He adds, "There are so many ways this product can be used. Before, a pitcher could only visualize a ball's path, now the intended path is decided. The different forms of this product could have benefits for all levels of baseball.”

Better execution results in better performance. The coach’s instruction can be clearly understood. The product will have an immediate impact.

The Pitcher’s Eye(R) offers several models, from introductory to advanced training levels. It is made in the USA by 4 Seam Inc., a company based in Newtown Square, PA. It was invented and designed by people who have played, watched and coached baseball for their entire lives, through successive generations.
