

deverus, Inc. Announces ESS as their 2006 Client of the Year

AUSTIN, Texas – Apr. 13 (SEND2PRESS NEWSWIRE) – deverus today announced Employment Screening Services (ESS) as the Client of the Year for 2006. This high honor is announced annually and is based on growth, innovation, and industry leadership. ESS's formula for success is simple: they leverage technology and focus on delivering the right screening products to HR, and then back it by great customer service. This past year ESS has more than doubled the industry average growth rate, launched several new, innovative screening service lines that address specific needs in the market, and established themselves as industry leaders.

ESS has made the commitment to automate and leverage technology so that new ideas get incorporated into their service to clients that improve the bottom line and fuel growth.

"We are proud to announce ESS as our Client of the Year for 2006. ESS is one of the fastest growing background check companies in the market today and they take full advantage of deverus' technology and expertise to help fuel their growth. For this reason they deserve our client of the year award," said Shawn Rucks, CEO, deverus, Inc.

A few years ago after starting to build their own technology system, Employment Screening Services recognized it was in the background check business, not programming business. ESS has taken the best practices in the deverus system and extended the deverus platform as needed to meet their specific business process needs. This allows them to focus on business solutions instead of technology problems, and to grow faster and more profitably.

To reward ESS for this achievement, deverus will provide a full color multi page spread and editorial in Future Healthcare Magazine. The package also includes 3 case studies, and a question and answer piece in the "Thought Leader" section by ESS Vice President, Jason Kimbrell.
