TripMama.com, a new online travel booking website launched on Tuesday, August 07, 2007. TripMama.com promises to be a preeminent fare compare website, allowing consumers to enter flight details and search for the best travel deals online.

With the growing popularity and demand for easier ways to search and compare travel deals, TripMama.com delivers that and more!

TripMama.com combines the top travel websites on one page, making airfare comparison as simple as one click. We also offer exclusive deals, newsletter alerts and a unique travel forum. Our interactive community allows travelers to share their airline experiences, travel adventures, obtain travel advice and share upcoming travel events, photos from vacations and great destinations and communicate in real time with other travelers who share their passion for travel.

When asked what separates TripMama.com from other fare compare websites, David Wexler, Business Development Manager had this to say, "TripMama.com will deliver the ultimate one-click experience for travelers and deal seekers alike."

TripMama knows best... now you know, too!
