

Allstar Coaches Makes Temporary Housing Available for California Fire Evacuees

FT. LAUDERDALE, Fla. and SAN DIEGO, Calif. – Oct. 23 (SEND2PRESS NEWSWIRE) – In response to the current crisis in the Southern California area, Allstar Coaches will begin repositioning its fleet of luxury RV's to the west coast. "This is an effort to help those who have been displaced by the fires. Effective immediately, we have made all available coaches ready for transport to the affected areas. We are proud of the help we provided to victims of hurricanes Katrina, and Wilma and want to continue our tradition of making a difference to those in need," says Rob Tischler, CEO.

Send2Press® Newswire

These temporary housing solutions can be set up in a remote location or on the owner's property (providing the area is safe). "I was forced to move out of my own home after hurricane Wilma and I understand just how unnerving it can be, our goal is to make people as comfortable as possible during these trying times," said Mr. Tischler.

In many cases, the rental of luxury RV's for temporary housing is covered by insurance companies. Anyone needing temporary housing in the Southern California area should contact Allstar Coaches at (866) 838-4465 or www.allstarcoaches.com.

With locations in California, Florida, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio and opening soon in Las Vegas and Phoenix, Allstar has the ability to deliver a luxury motor home to virtually any doorstep in America.

The Allstar fleet consists of luxury class A diesel coaches ranging from 40'-45' with options of double, triple or quad slide outs which make these vehicles high end apartments on wheels.

News issued by: Allstar Coaches

#

Original Story ID: (3368) :: 2007-10-1023-004

Original Keywords: Allstar Coaches, rental of luxury RVs for temporary housing, CEO Rob Tischler, California wildfires, fleet of luxury RV, temporary housing solutions, luxury motor home, class A diesel coaches Allstar Coaches