

RV Resources Work Together to Provide Housing Solutions to Southern California Fire Victims

LA MESA, Calif. – Nov. 2 (SEND2PRESS NEWSWIRE) – Dealers Edge, LLC an Indiana-based management company, Tom Stinnett RV Freedom Center of Clarksville, IN and La Mesa RV Center, Inc. one of the nation's largest RV dealers, headquartered in San Diego, CA have coordinated their resources in order to offer temporary and short term housing solutions to Southern California wildfire victims.

Dealers Edge is currently working on a number of transitional housing projects designed to assist corporations and communities resolve unique housing needs. In conjunction with those projects, Tom Stinnett RV has worked with a major manufacturer to design a Commercial Living Unit ("CLU") that can be offered to underserved housing markets, in need of affordable, durable living quarters.

Currently Tom Stinnett RV has several hundred new CLUs available for deployment. These units were slated for a large project in the southwestern U.S. and have been made available to the Southern California area. The CLUs are all-aluminum, riveted seam construction with upgraded interiors, features and benefits designed for "full-time" living.

La Mesa RV Center with locations in San Diego and San Bernardino, CA is uniquely positioned to offer the CLUs to wildfire victims. A display CLU will be available for viewing beginning Monday, November 5, 2007. These factory-direct units can be shipped and delivered within 8-10 days of purchase.

For additional information please contact Bob Wiegand at Tom Stinnett RV (502) 664.7108 or Steve Love at La Mesa RV (858) 874.8095.

On the Web: stinnettrv.com

News issued by: Tom Stinnett RV

#

Original Story ID: (3411) :: 2007-11-1102-002

Original Keywords: Tom Stinnett RV, Dealers Edge LLC, RV Freedom Center of Clarksville, San Diego, auto dealer, temporary and short term housing solutions to Southern California wildfire victims Tom Stinnett RV