

RentMyCar.com Announces a Solution to the Rising Price of Gas

NEW YORK, N.Y., March 19 (SEND2PRESS NEWSWIRE) – RentMyCar.com has created a solution to counter the rising gas prices. This solution is based on the idea of person to person car rentals.

With the ability to verify the trustworthiness of the person renting the car and to buy short-term car insurance online, RentMyCar.com has made person to person car rentals a viable solution in cutting down the cost of rising gas prices.

Plus, it gives the added benefit of earning profits for car owners without putting their own insurance at risk. RentMyCar.com has created a new market never tapped into before that addresses a serious public issue of rising gas prices that are estimated to hit $4 a gallon this summer.

About RentMyCar

RentMyCar.com was the creation of a U.S. citizen who was shocked when his gas prices doubled. Looking for a way to cut down the cost of gas and to allow him to afford his car, he thought about having others help him share that cost by renting out his car to them.

For information: www.RentMyCar.com or
Contact: David@RentMyCar.com
Phone: (212) 920-7602

News issued by: RentMyCar.com

Send2Press® Newswire

Original Image: https://www.send2press.com/wire/images/08-0101-Send2Press_72dpi.jpg

#

Original Story ID: (3779) :: 2008-03-0319-005

Original Keywords: RentMyCar.com, person to person car rentals, New York car rental service RentMyCar.com