This innovative program offers quality-inspected properties in more than 200 countries, worldwide, with hotels ranging from budget to luxury accommodations. The savings are substantial, 30-40 percent off retail prices. Agents can log on to the new booking engine at www.farebuzz.com/hotels.

The new hotel program provides travel professionals with access to pre-negotiated wholesale rates, as well as the best available rates, categorized as "Super Nets" and "Super Savers." Agents can now add their mark up at the time of booking and receive their commissions within a week of booking.

"Travel agents are tired of waiting for their commissions and want their money fast," says Arnold Walter, President and CEO of Fare Buzz. The new hotel program is based on a powerful, robust and yet very simple to use technology which gives search results in seconds and instant booking confirmation. Reservations can be made on the web site 24/7 or by phone seven days a week.
