

Dr. James T. Brown Earns Certified Speaking Professional (CSP) Designation

ORLANDO, Fla., June 5 (SEND2PRESS NEWSWIRE) – Dr. James T. Brown PMP, PE, a widely recognized project management authority and author, has earned the Certified Speaking Professional (CSP) designation. Established in 1980, the CSP is the speaking profession's international measure of speaking experience and excellence. Fewer than 10 percent of the National Speakers Association speakers hold this professional designation.

The CSP designation is conferred by the National Speakers Association (NSA) and the International Federation of Professional Speakers (IFPS) only on accomplished professional speakers who have earned it by meeting strict criteria. A CSP must document a proven track record of continuing speaking experience and expertise as well as a commitment to ongoing education, outstanding client service and ethical behavior.

Dr. Brown is one of only 41 professionals to earn the CSP in the class of 2008. Dr. Brown will be honored during a ceremony on August 3rd at the 2008 NSA Convention in New York City.

Dr. Brown is president of SEBA(R) Solutions Inc., a Registered Education Provider for the Project Management Institute. He has provided training and consulting services for dozens of companies nationally and internationally. He provides keynote speeches on Leadership and his recent book "The Handbook of Program Management" (ISBN: 978-0071494724) published by McGraw Hill is available at www.ProgramManagementBook.com (redirects to Amazon.com page for book). Dr. Brown is also a Professional Engineer (PE) and a certified Project Management Professional (PMP)

The National Speakers Association (NSA) is the leading organization for professional speakers. NSA's thousands of members include experts in a variety of industries and disciplines. Since 1973, NSA has provided resources and education designed to advance the skills, integrity and value of its members the speaking profession.
