

New Title for the Instrumental Album from The G-Man is 'Burning Fan Soundscapes'

LOS ANGELES, Calif. (SEND2PRESS NEWSWIRE) – Music composer John Scott G (recording artist The G-Man) has changed the title of his instrumental album "Burning Man Soundscapes" to "Burning Fan Soundscapes." More information and song samples are online at the new website for the album: burningfansoundscapes.com.

Send2Press® Newswire

The "Burning Fan Soundscapes" album contains 14 instrumental tracks that blend rock, trance, ambient and even some classical music. Song titles suggest the mind-altering aspect of the project, including "Serpent in a Pin Stripe Suit," and "Lovemaking Montage."

The five-minute track called "Sandstorm of Glass" is an homage to the work of modern symphonic composer Philip Glass.

Songs from the album that already have music videos include "Keyboard Flavor Monkey," "Industrial Dark and Magic," "The Bolero Challenge," "Uniquetown, USA," and "Tribalism Tones."

About Scott G (The G-Man)

You have heard Scott G's music whether you know it or not. His compositions are utilized in commercials, played in clubs, and are featured on Internet and college radio. He is a partner in the music publishing firm called Golosio Publishing, and is on the board of the National Association of Record Industry Professionals (NARIP).

More information: www.burningfansoundscapes.com.

All trademarks acknowledged.

News issued by: Scott G The G-Man

Send2Press® Newswire

Original Image: https://www.send2press.com/wire/images/08-0819-BurnFan_72dpi.jpg

#

Original Story ID: (4226) :: 2008-08-0819-002

Original Keywords: Scott G The G-Man, Burning Man soundscapes album, burning fan, Songs and Soundtracks, Delvian records Scott G The G-Man