

KnowledgeAdvisors System Interoperability adds SkillSoft's SkillPort Integration and Updates GeoLearning GeoMaestro

CHICAGO, Ill., Feb. 22 (SEND2PRESS NEWSWIRE) – KnowledgeAdvisors, the world's largest provider of learning and talent measurement solutions, today announced it has added SkillSoft's (NASDAQ:SKIL) SkillPort™ Learning Management System to their very successful system interoperability program. In addition, support of GeoLearning's GeoMaestro 5 Series LMS Suite has been added. The program allows companies with investments in learning management systems, such as SkillSoft's SkillPort, GeoLearning's GeoMaestro™ and others, and other enterprise business applications to extend their measurement programs with data gathering automation, analytics reports, benchmarks, and testing.

SkillPort is the Learning Management System offered by SkillSoft as an add-on to their rich library of e-Learning content. With the integration, mutual clients can automate the evaluation of e-learning course completions taken through SkillPort with the robust evaluation solution from KnowledgeAdvisors. Based upon the subscription level with KnowledgeAdvisors, additional benefits include benchmarking, dashboards, and reports designed to effectively aggregate and analyze the data into scalable, repeatable, meaningful and actionable outputs.

GeoMaestro is the On-Demand Learning Management System from GeoLearning. KnowledgeAdvisors now supports version 5 so mutual clients using the latest enhancements from GeoLearning can now have the benefits and value of the KnowledgeAdvisors measurement solution.

Metrics that Matter™ from KnowledgeAdvisors System Interoperability program provides a rich set of APIs and services allowing integration with various business systems including learning management systems, financial systems, and human resource information systems (HRIS) to Metrics that Matter. By integrating business systems with Metrics that Matter, the full potential of the analytics and reporting engine are realized. Robust data analysis can then occur across all business units, include employee demographics, and report against key performance indicators (KPIs). Collecting the right data in alignment with KPIs is a critical step in data driven decision making.

Metrics that Matter, a Software as a Service (SaaS) offering, has a proven set of reliable and rock solid integration points that makes the integration possible. KnowledgeAdvisors has deep experience in working with a wide array of business systems and data formats/types increasing the likelihood of quick wins in integration.
