

IDS Debuts On The Mortgage Technology Top Service Providers List

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Aug. 5, 2011 (SEND2PRESS NEWSWIRE) – International Document Services (IDS), a mortgage document preparation vendor, has made its first appearance on the 2011 Top Service Providers list issued by Source Media's Mortgage Technology magazine.

According to the magazine's July issue, the Mortgage Technology Top Service Providers list recognizes "the technology and services vendors that excel in four categories – continued advancement of technology and services, a viable revenue model and value proposition to customers, exceptional customer service and a unique impact on the mortgage industry."

This annual list puts a particular emphasis on the providers' accomplishments over the past year. As evidence of IDS's suitability for this year's list, the editorial staff of Mortgage Technology cited:

- * IDS's status as an approved e-doc delivery provider for Wells Fargo;
- * The recent upgrades to idsDoc's e-signature capabilities, including features for borrowers to track and monitor their loan's status in the underwriting and origination process; and
- * IDS's triple-digit growth every year for the past five years and the 135% increase in the company's doc prep volume from 2007 to 2010.

"This is a significant achievement for IDS, and we want to thank the editorial staff of Mortgage Technology for the discerning effort they put into assembling this list each year," said IDS Executive Vice President Mark Mackey. "Our staff works hard to provide exceptional customer service, keep our technology current, and stay current on industry regulations. Being included on this year's Top Service Provider list is a huge validation of that effort, and we could not be more thrilled to be a part of this recognition with so many of our partners and industry competitors."
