

Softway Solutions partnering with Blazing Forge Games

HOUSTON, Texas, Sept. 20, 2011 (SEND2PRESS NEWSWIRE) – Softway Solutions, a web design, web and mobile application development and multimedia company in Houston, Texas, has announced its plans to invest in and grow Blazing Forge Games (BFG), a leading developer of popular video games for multiple platforms, including Xbox Live and the Windows Phone 7.

Softway Solutions is partnering with Blazing Forge Games, a game development company that specializes in console and mobile games. Softway and BFG plan to combine their multimedia development knowledge to expand Softway's extensive offerings to include larger, more feature rich gaming components on 2D and 3D games for the web, game consoles, mobile devices, and social media. BFG's offerings will also benefit greatly from Softway's expansive team of developers and artists that will facilitate a higher level of quality that comes from years of experience and success in a highly competitive software market.

Founded in June 2010, BFG produces high performance console and smartphone games. It focuses on creating classic gameplay that the nostalgic gamer desires while integrating innovative and modern gameplay. With a dedicated team actively engaged in expanding the quality of its downloadable content, BFG has been able to quickly release three successful and popular game titles in its first year.

Following the success of "Blurball," BFG moved into mobile development with "Redd: Mobile" for Windows Phone 7 and "Redd: The Lost Temple" for the Xbox Live Indie Market, which has won a spot in the top ten of the Indie Games Summer Uprising competition, coming in at 2nd place in the fan vote.
