WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Oct. 14, 2011 (SEND2PRESS NEWSWIRE) – A newly-launched website, DieselRVSearch.com, not only provides RV lovers with the ability to buy and sell new and used RVs, it also offers RV resources to make life a little easier when on the road.

DieselRVSearch.com is the only web site on the Internet that is strictly dedicated to diesel RV sales.

So, what makes a diesel recreational vehicle more attractive than any other? Well, diesel RVs require less maintenance and are more solidly constructed.

And, people looking for diesel RVs online will find a much greater number of choices available than say going to an actual dealer. Prices range from approximately $80,000 to 2 million; it's like the eBay(R) for RVs.

DieselRVSearch.com can also arrange to have the RV delivered to any state in the country.

Additionally, this RV sales site also shares where to get repairs done; and where to find rental and dealer RV resources in all 50 states.

People searching for RVs can search by state, year, manufacturer and select from class A, B or C.
