

InnoVergent to Exhibit InnoVergent/Rx at Intacct Advantage 2011 Conference

ALPHARETTA, Ga., Oct. 18, 2011 (SEND2PRESS NEWSWIRE) – InnoVergent (www.innovergent.com), a technology consultancy firm and reseller and system integrator of cloud computing accounting software, will be featuring its InnoVergent/Rx service for Intacct financial accounting customers. InnoVergent will be a sponsor of the Intacct Solution Showcase the Intacct Advantage 2011 Conference taking place in Las Vegas October 26 – 28, 2011.

InnoVergent/Rx is a service for Intacct financial accounting customers to help them fully utilize their solution. InnoVergent/Rx is a five step process where InnoVergent consultants work with the customer to identify any issues and set goals; thoroughly analyze the current implementation; conduct a training review; target integration opportunities; and make recommendations.

“There are a number of critical ways these services assist our customers in gaining greater process efficiencies and contributing to more effective operations,” said InnoVergent Founder Paul Cammisa. “Checking to see that the organization’s chart of accounts and Intacct financial accounting are optimally integrated; recommending how to tailor Intacct to better meet the company’s objectives; exploring to see that all enhancements and updates have been installed; creating more relevant dashboard configurations and reporting; and making training recommendations for the organization’s Intacct administrator and accounting staff so they can be more proficient, are just some of the ways InnoVergent/Rx can enhance the customer experience.”

InnoVergent is among the earliest independent technology and solution providers to join the Intacct channel as a reseller and systems integrator. In addition to providing businesses with assistance from the initial purchase of a solution through implementation, support and training; InnoVergent has helped many companies integrate complementary cloud-based solutions such as Adaptive Planning, Salesforce.com, and custom solutions to provide a more complete view of the business to C-Level executives. InnoVergent helps organizations hone their Services Resource Planning workflows to maximize profitability and provide greater customer service.
