

Third Wave Business Systems Partners with Volusion to Provide Easy Ecommerce Functionality for Small and Mid-sized Business

WAYNE, N.J., May 31, 2012 (SEND2PRESS NEWSWIRE) – Third Wave Business Systems has chosen to partner with Volusion because of their ability to make Merchandising, Marketing, Social Media, Management, Security, and Support functions work seamlessly with business. This partnership with Volusion, a leading edge ecommerce software provider will enable Third Wave to provide one-stop shopping to their clients for creating and hosting ecommerce sites. In 2009, Volusion software completed over $2 billion in transactions.

Volusion's ecommerce merchandising options will provide Third Wave's clients with web templates, product comparisons, and integrated one-page checkout options. Volusion's management capabilities will provide robust reporting capabilities and quick order processing. And their Security and Support will ensure that clients' data is safely protected by a fully staffed professional support team. Third Wave's clients will benefit greatly from the integration of Volusion's rich ecommerce functionality and their already powerful business platform – SAP Business One. Volusion is affordable, very scalable, and when combined with SAP Business One enables our clients to increase efficiency and profits.

"We are very happy to partner with Volusion because their offerings give our clients what they need. Additionally, we can quickly integrate with SAP Business One and provide a complete solution," said Mark Breznak, COO of Third Wave Business Systems.

"At Volusion, we are continuously looking for industry-leading companies to work with and are delighted to partner with Third Wave Business Systems. Our partnership with Third Wave will allow their customers the ability to operate their business on Volusion's easy-to-use, award-winning platform. We are excited about this partnership and look forward to Third Wave's continued success," said Neil Patel, Director of Business Development and Merchant Services.
