HENDERSONVILLE, N.C., April 5, 2017 (SEND2PRESS NEWSWIRE) – A Healthier Home LLC, western North Carolina's leading environmental green and healthy home assessment provider has been awarded the prestigious Super Service Award from Angie's List for the 5th consecutive year.

"Environmental home health needs are increasingly common, but are not addressed by standard home inspections," says Rick Bayless, owner. "We focus on quality of life inside the home."

The Super Service award is the highest honor given annually to Angie's List health and service providers who have achieved and maintained a superior service rating with its customers. A Healthier Home ranks in the top 5 percent of member companies nationally recognized in 2016. Previous Super Service Awards have been awarded to A Healthier Home during each year of membership: 2012, 2013, 2014 and 2015.

Bayless calls the Super Service Award an outstanding honor.

"Customer healthiness in the home matters most," he says. "We are committed to results, a high level of excellence, and customer satisfaction."

A January 2017 article from realtor.com identified environmental home healthiness as a leading national trend for those making real estate purchases. The award, based on regional customer reviews, consistently ranks A Healthier Home alongside top member corporations nationally with a comparable mission.

Bayless believes his personal combination of mutual respect, common sense and science yields the kind of results consumers seek when they're looking for answers.

"We work with our clients to identify the root cause of house environmental issues that could be affecting their health," says Bayless. "Then we identify the corrective or preventative measures that will meet their needs and budget."
