IOR Global Services joined Move For Hunger in 2020 and has currently helped to provide 43,630 meals to those in need through their partnership with Move For Hunger.

“People have always been our priority at IOR Global Services, both in our network of employees, consultants, clients, and within our community,” said

Rob Burns, CEO of IOR Global Services. “We pride ourselves on our team’s efforts to give back and support those in need, a key component of IOR’s culture, and we are very excited to partner once again with Move For Hunger to aid in their ongoing relief efforts and make a significant impact on peoples’ lives.”

Move For Hunger was founded in 2009 and has provided over 27 million pounds of food, equaling more than 23 million meals, to food pantries across the United States and Canada. Move For Hunger now has a network of over 1,100 moving companies, including many of the worlds leading relocation management companies, and more than 2,700 multi-family apartment communities, all helping to fight to end hunger by collecting food items and delivering them to local food banks in the United States and Canada.

“Approximately 42 million Americans face hunger every day, yet 35% of food in America is wasted,” said Adam Lowy, Executive Director and Founder of Move For Hunger. “Through our partnership with IOR, we’re able to recover more food and put it food on the tables of those who are desperately in need.”
