

ARMCO Announced as HW TECH100 Category Winner

POMPANO BEACH, Fla., March 3, 2016 (SEND2PRESS NEWSWIRE) – ACES Risk Management \(ARMCO\), a leading provider of web-based quality control software for the financial services industry, announced it has been included in the HousingWire HW TECH100™ list for the second year in a row. In addition, ARMCO received special recognition as the winner of the “Elegant Implementation” category for its development of the ACES Analytics quality control (QC) benchmarking tool.

As the magazine stated in its March 2016 issue, “The purpose of the ‘elegant implementation’ category is to find simplicity where others have created complexity.” In its explanation, HousingWire’s editorial staff cited both ACES Analytics’ ability to benchmark loan quality against industry peers and its advanced reporting and data visualization capabilities as reasons why the solution was chosen for this honor.

“It is particularly gratifying to be recognized by HousingWire as this year’s winner of the Elegant Implementation award category,” said ARMCO CEO Avi Naider. “Our company mission is to provide solutions that simplify life for QC and compliance professionals who operate in a frequently changing and increasingly complex environment. We developed ACES Analytics so our customers could develop a better understanding of how QC and compliance in their organization stacks up against industry peers.”

The TECH100™ represents the housing economy’s 100 most innovative technology companies. Making the cut is a special honor reserved for the very best technology our industry has to offer. According to the publication:

We view innovation along with six discrete dimensions, and each company included on our list is reviewed with these dimensions as a guideline for inclusion:

- * Market influence
- * Market potential
- * Unique solution
- * Growth
- * Elegant implementation
- * Something else entirely (the “it” factor).

For each of the six dimensions, HousingWire editors select a winning company that best represents the given dimension, in addition to selecting the 100 companies that comprise the TECH100™.

“The companies in the HW TECH100 are providing innovative solutions to the traditionally hide-bound mortgage finance industry,” said HousingWire Editor-in-Chief Jacob Gaffney. “In the face of rising costs to originate and service loans, a still-volatile housing market and multiplying regulations, these innovations are crucial to the survival and profitability of those in our industry.”

“It’s incredible to see the universe of tech options now available to our industry,” said HousingWire Magazine Editor Sarah Wheeler. “Some of the best and brightest minds are clearly working in our space to address the extraordinary challenges our industry is facing.”
