

ARMCO Executives to Address Mortgage Pre/Post-Funding QA, Loan Defect Rates at MBA Risk Management, QA and Fraud Prevention Forum

POMPANO BEACH, Fla., Aug. 19, 2015 (SEND2PRESS NEWSWIRE) – Leading web-based financial services quality control software provider ACES Risk Management \(ARMCO\) announced two of its top executives will participate in panels at the Mortgage Bankers Association's (MBA) Risk Management, QA & Fraud Prevention Forum 2015, Sept. 9-11 in Dallas.

ARMCO Chairman and CEO Avi Naider will participate in the "Linking Pre-Fund and Post-Fund QA Findings" panel on Thursday, Sept. 10 from 1:00-2:15 p.m.

The purpose of this session is:

Learn how to use pre-funding findings as early warning indicators of control failures and action plan effectiveness, examine the correlation between pre-funding fraud and risk prevention and post-funding forensic quality control reviews conducted in house, and drive ROI by applying focus where it counts.

On Friday, Sept. 11 from 9:45-10:45 a.m., ARMCO COO Phil McCall will address attendees on the topic of, "Measuring, Tracking and Reducing Loan Defect Rates."

Per the forum agenda:

Reducing defect rates requires answers as to where your problems lie and action plans based on evidence of weakness. When armed with relevant information, communication and execution are simply final steps in a validated plan of attack. Learn how to use predictive models to focus on your riskiest loans, technology tools that can help you find defects more quickly, and how to evaluate audit defect patterns to create process improvement.

Forum attendees interested in speaking with Naider or McCall at the event should visit the ARMCO booth.
