As one of the most important meetings for civil trial organizations, the Florida Justice Association's Workhorse Seminar offers a huge array of continuing education accredited presentations by many of the State's most experienced attorneys and industry professionals.

Held at the Marriott World Center in Orlando, the four day event hosted dozens of seminars on a wide variety of topics including damages from personal injury and wrongful death cases, bad faith and insurance coverage, and many more. One featured seminar on traumatic brain injury was given in part by doctor Bennet Omalu, a forensic pathologist and neuropathologist, who was the first to publish findings of Chronic Traumatic Encephalopathy (CTE) in NFL players. In total, attendees had the opportunity to earn over 100 CLE credits in General Law, Ethics, and Technology Civil Trial Certifications.

Several members of the personal injury law firm Shapiro Goldman Babboni Fernandez & Walsh participated in the Florida Justice Association's Workhorse Seminar. In attendance were, Attorney David L. Goldman of the Sarasota office, Bernard F. Walsh of the Bradenton Office, Michael J. Babboni from the firms St. Petersburg office, and attorneys Daniel Murphy, and Adam Shapiro.

FJA board member and founder of the Manasota Trial Lawyers Board, Bernard F. Walsh had this comment about the FJA event: "Of all CLE events available to attorneys in Florida, Workhorse is the most comprehensive and the most important. For an attorney to truly offer the best legal services for their personal injury clients, it is essential that they are fully versed in the latest technological advances in diagnostic, imaging, and treatment of serious injuries."

Walsh added, "FJA's Workhorse event brings together some of the nation's foremost experts on many different topics, and every plaintiff's attorney in Florida should take advantage of this opportunity. Often the outcome of a serious injury case may come down to an attorney's ability to convey the extent of injury and damage suffered by their client, and having an understanding of how to leverage the latest techniques to illustrate this to a jury can make all the difference. I am proud to be here with my fellow partners from Shapiro Goldman Babboni Fernandez and Walsh."
