MPA's Elite Women in Mortgage awards recognizes woman "record-breakers, innovators, mentors and trendsetters who inspire the success of their peers every day and are using their collective influence to change the face of America's mortgage industry." The award program is now in its fifth year. Awardees are chosen by the magazine's editorial staff.

Santos was recognized for product development contributions that have led to IDS's growth in the market. In 2017, she helped increase development of new products and features within idsDoc by 22 percent, oversaw the addition of 218 new audits to idsDoc, managed a 42 percent increase in closing document production and launched idsDoc features that support new Uniform Closing Dataset (UCD) requirements.

Most recently, Santos played a crucial role in enhancements to IDS' loan operating system (LOS) integrations, including the addition of a document preview feature that allows idsDoc users to preview mortgage documents within their LOS before being submitted to fulfillment. Additionally, she has directed the construction and seamless roll-out of IDS' Hybrid eClosing solution by servicing as a go-between for IDS's Development, Operations, and Compliance teams.

"Beckie has always been keenly driven to ensure both form and function combine harmoniously with regulatory requirements in any update added to idsDoc," said Mark Mackey, vice president and general manager of IDS. "Her efforts have helped guarantee that IDS' solutions meet the needs of both regulators and customers, and always result in fully compliant mortgage documents and document packages for lenders. We are both grateful for and proud of Beckie's impact and leadership."

"I enjoy developing solutions for the ever-evolving puzzle that is mortgage compliance technology," said Santos. "It's a pleasure to be recognized for doing the work that I love."
