Attorney Bernard Walsh from the Bradenton office of Shapiro Goldman Babboni Fernandez & Walsh has joined the ranks of notable lawyers from across the nation in the 'Contemporary Portraits Collection' of the Trial Lawyers National Portrait Gallery.

Created by Artist Trevor Goring, Trial Lawyers National Portrait Gallery is a large body of work showcasing unique portraits which document and celebrate the contemporary and historical trial lawyer community.

Trial lawyers are committed to insuring that all people see justice in our nation's courtrooms. They strive to promote justice and fairness for injured persons, safeguards victims' rights, particularly the right to trial by jury, and strengthen the civil justice system. Trial lawyers work tirelessly to serve their clients for positive outcomes and protect the democratic values inherent in the civil justice system.

Bernard Walsh had this to say about being included in the Trial Lawyers National Portrait Gallery, "Few things shape the society we live in, and have as much impact on the success and happiness of the people in our nation as much as law and our legal system. Every year attorneys work, study and strive to better represent clients and strengthen the legal system as a whole, yet few in the public will think about the role lawyers have in our day to day lives.

"Having a renowned artist such as Trevor Goring dedicate so much of his creative energy to record so many dedicated attorneys is wonderful. I am honored to have been included in this exceptional group and thank Trevor for his fine work."

The portrait of Attorney Bernard F. Walsh and many other attorneys can be viewed online at the Trial Lawyer National Portrait Gallery.
