In a recent interview, Dr. Goodall, announced the name of her tour, "From the practice to the people." She indicated she was thrilled to be able to coordinate efforts with the International Bipolar Foundation, which does amazing work with providing resources and education for persons interested in expanding their knowledge base on the disorder.

I wanted to be able to present a lecture format, along with Questions and Answers to have a direct connection with the people and make it more personal. I was thrilled to see that my book, hit #1 New Release on Amazon in Medical and Clinical Psychology. This showed me there was enough interest and need to make this direct connection."
