Southern California based hard rock band California Villain are currently in the studio finishing up their debut EP, slated for a 2020 release. "A Little After Midnight" drops on October 31 – Halloween.

Singer/song-writer Brian Holliday brings a powerful rock vocal performance to this first single "A Little After Midnight" taking you on a lyrical journey of fast cars, wild women and the California street racing lifestyle.

This is an absolute fun rocking tune, with true California style. Brian's in-your-face guitar style, is highlighted by Rodger Bennett and Tom Harrison, a true hard-hitting rhythm section that completes this California rock trio. "A Little After Midnight” is sure to be a fan favorite with their smashing performance from start to end.
