The state-of-the-art facility will be ready for occupancy later this year, with Capacity planning to begin operations at the site from February 1, 2020. Located at 1601 Livingston Avenue, the space is custom-built for modern fulfillment technology and will serve as Capacity's new headquarters.

The company will retain its existing campus at 1112 Corporate Road in North Brunswick, with its other locations combining to provide existing and future clients with around one million square feet of contemporary warehouse space.

"Capacity's growth continues to outpace our warehouse footprint. Our preference has always been to keep our roots in North Brunswick, offering a centralized location for our employees with a surplus of local labor. We are strategically positioned to service the North East corridor and expand our California operations,” said Capacity’s Chief Financial Officer Arlen Fish.

“Partnering with Achim Importing Co. provides Capacity with its new headquarters recognizing our accomplishments, celebrating client growth and promoting expansion into new opportunities.”

With the lease on this exciting new facility signed, Capacity has moved to ensure the company will continue to offer premium order fulfillment services to internationally renowned brands for years to come.
