IRVINE, Calif., Dec. 1, 2017 (SEND2PRESS NEWSWIRE) – Cloudvirga™, the developer of intelligent mortgage point-of-sale (POS) platforms, today announced that its founder and COO Kyle Kamrooz is a winner of HousingWire's third annual Vanguard Awards. Kamrooz has nearly 20 years of senior management experience spanning all areas of residential mortgage lending. He co-developed the enterprise digital mortgage platform that would become Cloudvirga while serving as executive vice president at one of the nation's top 40 mortgage lenders.

Since spinning out Cloudvirga, Kamrooz has established partnerships with some of the industry's most innovative service providers and signed three of the top eight non-bank lenders to Cloudvirga's platform. He has also helped the company raise more than $25 million in two funding rounds supported by leading venture capital firms and some of the industry's largest lenders.

“Cloudvirga’s success stems from our obsession with tackling the massive mortgage cost and inefficiency problem,” Kamrooz said. “Getting in the trenches with mortgage professionals to truly understand the problems that can be solved with data and automation has been the focus of my career. It’s an honor to be recognized for the work that is also my passion.”

“Our Vanguard winners represent an incredible cross-section of the industry – the cream of the crop in lending, servicing, investing and real estate,” Magazine Editor Sarah Wheeler said. “This group of leaders exemplifies the remarkable depth of talent and expertise in the world of mortgage finance.”

Now in its third year, the HousingWire Vanguard Awards program recognizes executives in the housing finance industry for their outstanding leadership in the space. Winners are selected by HousingWire’s editorial board and evaluated based on their company and industry contributions.
