Send2Press® Newswire

"It's a great honor to announce Crosslake as one of the 20 Most Promising QMS Solution Providers 2016," said Jeevan George, Managing Editor of CIOReview. "Crosslake has lived up to its mission to help organizations continually innovate and optimize software delivery to create new value."

Crosslake works with its clients to improve their end-to-end software development process and IT operations. "Our strategy is to help companies evaluate quality by examining whether or not the product works the way people expect it to work and to see how it can be delivered at a reasonable cost with a reasonable time-to-market," explained Russ Albright, CEO. "It's great to be recognized for our distinct approach to quality," added Albright.

Crosslake specializes in providing services including Technical Due Diligence, Transformational Roadmap, Scaled Agile Framework (SAFe), Technical Assessments, Organizational Optimization, Quality Assurance Acceleration, DevOps, On-Premise to Cloud, Pivotal Cloud Foundry, IT Operations and Corporate Services.
