

DearMob's 5KPlayer 3.6 Released In Time for Oscars 2016 Pictures

NEW YORK CITY, N.Y., Feb. 29, 2016 (SEND2PRESS NEWSWIRE) – DearMob's 5KPlayer makes a quantum leap into Version 3.6 for Windows and Mac upon the announcement of Oscars 2016 winners, offering an ideal choice for users to watch Oscars 2016 best pictures including "Spotlight," "The Revenant" and more with the free video player. For refined video quality, this upgrade involves major improvements in playing encrypted online videos and AirPlay to Apple tvOS 9.2 released on Feb. 23, the previous bug of playing videos without sound also gets addressed on both Windows and Mac.

To bring the best pictures in the 88th Academy Awards to each audience, 5KPlayer fixed two problems with online watching and video downloading (when legitimate), so that anyone can use it to watch "Spotlight," "The Revenant," and "Mad Max: Fury Road" with non-faulty soundtracks, original subtitles, and no video choke or mosaic. Another homegrown option of 5KPlayer called AirPlay also sees a fine-tune in conjunction with the latest Apple tvOS 9.2 upgrade, which can present movies from PC (Windows 10 compatible) or Mac to Apple TV.

Nominated Oscar pictures are out of theaters before the voting procedure begins, according to www.oscars.org. Thus users can resort to other channels such as 5KPlayer for a legal copy. The online download module is adjusted so as to analyze and download streaming videos from legal sites. In front of Oscars 2016 movies with world-class visual effects and screenplay, 5KPlayer Version 3.6 for Windows and Mac comes just in time.

The brand new AirPlay kernel of 5KPlayer supports any Oscars 2016 movies for AirPlay from PC to Apple TV for bigger-screen enjoyment. Apple buffs can now upgrade to the latest Apple tvOS 9.2 with 5KPlayer working deftly. Despite dozens of 3rd party AirPlay servers squashed by AirPlay in iOS 9.0 or newer, 5KPlayer is a resilient candidate to catch up with the latest Apple updates.

Upholding the principle of supplying creative multi-media solutions, 5KPlayer's in-time leap into Version 3.6 for Mac and Windows fully testified its consideration for users amid the annual grand event for pictures. Watching best pictures of the Oscars 2016 with 5KPlayer, the audiences can see how a real free video player can work wonders with world-class movies and cinematography.
