

Delta Care Rx Now Integrates with Suncoast Electronic Medical Records

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Feb. 16, 2018 (SEND2PRESS NEWSWIRE) – Delta Care Rx, a leading pharmaceutical innovator in end of life care, announces a robust integration with Suncoast by Complia Health, a leading global provider of home health care and hospice software solutions.

DELTA CARE

HOSPICE PHARMACY. INNOVATION. PARTNERSHIP.

Send2Press® Newswire

The Delta Care Rx hospice pharmacy benefits management (PBM) solution joins a growing list of other vendors which integrate effortlessly with the Suncoast industry standard electronic medical records (EMR) system. Now, clients with the Suncoast EMR are able to enhance efficiencies with a single point of data entry which will then flow electronically to Delta Care Rx.

“The integration allows an increased number of our clients to use the additional functionality of the software,” says Nate Truitt, general manager of Suncoast by Complia Health. “We want to make certain our clients have access to all the software options available to them.”

The integration:

- increases efficiency, saving time and costs

- eliminates redundancy of any data entry
- improves the quality of patient care
- provides a single point of entry for patient demographics and medication orders
- complements Delta Care Rx's proprietary and easy-to-use e-Tools suite of software.

The integration is inclusive of industry tailored e-Prescribing and durable medical equipment (DME) order management that works on any digital device, including smart phones.

A leading PBM, Delta Care Rx partners with top EMR vendors – like Suncoast by Complia – to provide innovative integration solutions which ultimately enhance clinical efficiency and dramatically reduce costs for hospice organizations.

According to David Clapp, national director of business development at Delta Care Rx, “We appreciate the opportunity to partner with quality providers like Suncoast by Complia. Together, we make it possible for our mutual clients to ensure patient quality of care across the care continuum.”

Delta Care Rx is a leading sponsor for the second annual Complia Health CARE User Conference, Monday, Feb. 19, through Friday, Feb. 23, 2018 at the Marriott Orlando World Center, Orlando, Florida.

Attendees will network with peers in post-acute, home health, hospice and palliative care organizations, while simultaneously learning from a broad variety of industry experts and thought leaders, such as Delta Care Rx president and COO Drew Mihalyo, who will be featured in Thursday's Partner Showcase.
