Neal, an advisor to mortgage lenders and businesses that provide services and technology solutions to mortgage lenders since 2006, has served DepthPR clients since 2009, first as a contractor before becoming a full-time employee in 2015. Over the last decade, she has been responsible for developing full-service marketing and PR strategies, ensuring their effective execution, and cultivating productive relationships for DepthPR clients.

“Lindsey has been an invaluable member of the DepthPR team for a decade, proving herself an astute counselor and a gifted practitioner at every turn,” said DepthPR founder and president, Kerri S. Milam. “As impressed as I have been by Lindsey’s business acumen and job performance, I have come to place the highest value on her integrity, her emotional intelligence, her instincts and her trustworthiness – qualities that can’t be taught.

“Anyone who has launched a consultative services business knows that in the early days everyone is a utility player and the willingness to wear many hats makes or breaks the enterprise. Lindsey has been indispensable in growing our firm. I have tremendous respect for her and rely on her judgement daily,” Milam added.

Neal, a 2006 graduate of Berry College in Rome, Georgia, in 2011 earned her M.B.A. from the Terry College of Business at the University of Georgia.
