Purcell will bring her more than 30 years of financial services and digital mortgage strategy expertise to oversee NotaryCam’s marketing, industry partnerships and enterprise sales efforts.

“With the launch of eClose360, NotaryCam is forging new ground in remote online notarizations and closings, and there’s no one better to help us blaze this trail than Kelly Purcell,” said NotaryCam Founder Rick Triola. “Her insights and expertise on digital mortgage strategy and execution are second to none, and we’re confident that NotaryCam’s clients will benefit tremendously from her presence on the team.”

Before joining NotaryCam, Purcell founded eRelevant Consulting to advise lenders on using digital technology solutions to meet business objectives, overcome problems and remain competitive. Purcell also co-founded SignOnline in 1999, which was later re-branded as eSignSystems.

“Having been a career-long advocate for digital mortgage adoption, I am especially eager to join the NotaryCam team to help industry players realize the benefits of remote online notarization and remote online closings and look forward to working directly with NotaryCam’s clients and partners in realizing the full potential of the eClose360 platform,” Purcell said.
