

Eastern Pennsylvania Now Sports Latest in Tattoo Revisions

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., June 5, 2015 (SEND2PRESS NEWSWIRE) – Rejuvatek Medical, Inc., Sandy, Utah, announced the opening of their latest Tatt2Away® center in Eastern Pennsylvania at Marc’s Tattooing & Body Piercing. Tatt2Away offers a patented, innovative alternative to laser tattoo removal that is less painful, less costly, and more effective at removing all tattoo colors of pigment.

Marc’s Tattooing & Body Piercing, with 4 locations covering the Eastern region of Pennsylvania, has been the area’s industry trusted name in professionalism and artistry for over 25 years. Over that time, Steve Gulbin and Jon Owens, partners of Marc’s Tattooing, have witnessed thousands of piercing and tattoo jobs through their doors, and noticed an increase in much of their business was clients exploring ways to cover up or re-imagine a current tattoo.

“We really wanted to find an easy, less expensive way to remove or enhance some of this unfortunate work,” says Gulbin. “Jon and I were on the hunt for a cutting-edge technique that was an alternative to laser removal and offered us full control over the creative process. I’m ecstatic to offer a removal solution like this at our shops!”

While 65 million Americans sport a tattoo, 11 percent of them are getting – or have had – one removed. Although the laser has been the go to method of removal, its lack of efficacy, coupled with pain and cost, have not made it an attractive value proposition. Marc’s Tattooing plans on capitalizing on the newest alternative to laser tattoo removal.

Owens added, “Not only is this THE solution for those that want a full tattoo removal, but it will also make a cover up session more tolerable and less costly for our clients.”

Tatt2Away is placing only a few systems per city, offering a limited exclusivity to those studios that see the opportunity first and act on it. For more information, go to <http://www.Tatt2Away.com/> or contact Jack Savage, Rejuvatek Medical, Inc. 855-252-2929 jacksavage@Tatt2Away.com
