Each building has its own set of unique characteristics and operational profiles. Everhart's years of experience in building construction and operations, combined with the ability to mobilize teams of subcontractors, allows for the uninterrupted operation of a facility in today's light-speed-paced business climate.

Losing operational ability means losing revenue. Everhart Construction's responsiveness in critical situations provides clients with the ability to utilize their facilities unabated while they work around-the-clock to resolve problems, restore functionality, and complete challenging projects.

Commercial construction projects in Houston should not be a burden; often, construction is dirty, noisy, disruptive, and litigious. However, Everhart Construction is different. When you choose Everhart, you can rest assured knowing you can count on their professionalism, efficiency, and respect.

"Everhart has been the benchmark for success over the past 20 years, and have delivered exceptional project experiences over and over again. That's why a large percentage of our business is repeat business," said Lee Mash – President & CEO of Everhart Construction.

From conception to completion, our team of professional estimators, designers, project managers, and experienced executives make our clients' needs our top priority. We have experience in a wide variety of projects and delivery methods, and use both time-proven practices and cutting-edge techniques to make sure our customers' projects meet their maximum potential.
