SCIENTOLOGY NETWORK'S INTERNATIONAL WOMEN'S DAY MARATHON

Send2Press® Newswire

First observed in 1911, International Women's Day is commemorated annually on March 8th. The day celebrates the achievements of women and raises awareness for women's rights.

Whether they're challenging stereotypes in the business world or standing strong in the face of social injustice, the wide array of protagonists featured on the International Women's Day Marathon are truly making a difference in their communities. Prime time kicks off with innovative footwear designer Chie Mihara and includes groundbreaking educators like Tamara Batalha and civil rights lawyer Allison Folmar, who states: "There's nothing like being that powerful voice and advocate for people right here in my community."

The day's programming begins at 1 p.m. PT and includes:

- Meet a Scientologist – this original series gives an in-depth look into the lives of individual Scientologists from the frontiers of art, science, sports, entertainment and more.
- Voices for Humanity – the television series dedicated to those working in the streets, schools and communities to bring human rights to their countries and handle other major social ills.
- The Story of Human Rights – a short film defining one of the world's most misunderstood subjects, covering ancient history to the modern era.
